Program Description

Thunder Bay Regional Health Sciences Center, in collaboration with the Northern Ontario School of Medicine, provides once monthly "Regional Education Rounds" (RER), based on a variety of parameters and education material, such as case studies, adverse events, patient care needs, new technologies, evidence based medicine and best practice guidelines, and medical literature. Regional Education Rounds are 1 hour long and videoconferenced to NOSM OTN sites, as well as webcasted for asynchronous viewing. All faculty and healthcare professionals in Northern Ontario are invited to attend the RER. The RER are multidisciplinary, and interprofessional, intended to foster effective team care.

This round will focus on identifying and managing the most common ENT emergencies.

Objectives

By the end of the program, participants will be able to:

- 1) Recognize a broad variety of urgent ENT problems
- 2) Apply the most appropriate early management to urgent ENT cases
- 3) Assess which ENT emergencies require immediate referral

Presenter
