Danielle Bélanger-Corbin
Community Engagement and Planning Officer for the Nipissing/Temiskaming region with the Réseau du mieux-être francophone du Nord de l’Ontario

Danielle Bélanger-Corbin is a decorated Canadian Forces army logistics officer who retired in 2000 after a rewarding career where she played key leadership roles in the evolving business of logistics and supply within the department of National Defence in support of its military operations at home and abroad.

In June 2017, Danielle Bélanger-Corbin was appointed to the Ontario Review Board, which annually reviews the status of every person who has been found to be not criminally responsible or unfit to stand trial for criminal offences on account of a mental disorder. Since September 2015, Danielle has been a member of the Northern Ontario School of Medicine’s Board of Directors, where she serves on the Governance committee and chairs the Nominations and Community Relations sub-committee. Previously, she served six years (two terms) with the North East Local Health Integration Network (NELHIN) Board of Directors where she held the role of Chair of the Board for two years as well as the positions of Vice Chair and Chair of the NE LHIN’s Audit and Governance Committees.

In addition to the governance work she does, she handles financial and managerial accounting for a medical professional corporation in Temiskaming Shores, as well as owns and operates a farm and private equestrian training facility.

Danielle is a fluently bilingual Francophone who has a passion for learning foreign languages and cultures. She has helped found and serves on various boards of not-for-profit organizations in her community. Danielle has a long history of volunteerism, whether it be working with youth at school, on the soccer fields, hockey arenas, on the ski trails, and helping those on low incomes complete their income tax forms or serving as a crisis responder team lead with Temiskaming & District Victim Services. Danielle is happiest when travelling the world, with her husband and three teenage children.
