Talking together to improve health

Local public health engagement with First Nations communities: Applying sound engagement principles throughout a collaborative research project

Renée St. Onge and Sandra Laclé

Sudbury District Health Unit (SDHU)

Thursday, May 31, 2018

12:00 p.m. – 1:00 p.m.

The Learning Objectives for this seminar are;

1. Identify practices that may foster public health engagement with First Nations communities.
2. Identify collaborative practices with Indigenous people and First Nations communities in the context of a research project.
3. Identify ways in which local public health agencies in Ontario currently engage with First Nation communities and apply these ways to other settings.

This Group Learning program meets the certification criteria of the College of Family Physicians of Canada and has been certified by the Continuing Education and Professional Development Office at the Northern Ontario School of Medicine for up to 1 Mainpro+ credits.
