NOHHMG

The Northern Ontario History of Health and Medicine Group links students, faculty, researchers, practitioners, staff and interested individuals from across the North and beyond from a range of disciplines/professions. It is open to the public.

Learning Objectives: Demonstrate their knowledge of the history of biological rhythms. Discuss research methods, sources, and results related to the history of biological rhythms. Discuss and develop a wider critical perspective on the history of biological rhythms that can help inform their perspectives on issues related to practice and relevant public debates.
