

PAPER TIGERS

One high school's unlikely success story.

AWAKE:

The Doc Project

A documentary project featuring a series of films designed to re-focus our attention on the primary prevention of disease and growing industry bias in healthcare.

DATE: January 9, 2020

TIME: 5:30-8:30 pm

LOCATION: Northern Ontario School of Medicine, 935 Ramsey Lake Road
Room: MSE 107

SESSION TITLE: Paper Tigers

PRESENTER: Gayle Adams-Carpino, Dr. Julie Connolly
Expert panel discussion to follow film.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

1. At the end of this presentation, participants will understand how children's developing bodies and brains respond to stress and how health and social care providers can promote resilience in children.

2. At the end of this presentation, participants will be able to identify how diverse community approaches to health and social care delivery (i.e. law enforcement, universities, faith-based communities, elementary schools) can support resilience among vulnerable children and their families.

This session has been accredited for 3.0 Mainpro credits.
