

Anesthesia Care & Pain Medicine

November 20 – 21, 2020

Hosted by University of Toronto

Who should attend?

NOSM Faculty, undergraduate and resident learners interested in the importance of anesthesia services in rural and remote Canada.

Discuss with, and learn from colleagues at all levels and disciplines.

Registration & Information

Please visit the Anesthesiology & Pain Medicine, University of Toronto conference website!

Topics and Workshops Include:

- Anesthesia workforce planning in urban and rural Canada
- Coaching networks, mentorship and educational opportunities
- Policy enablers and interventions
- Technology, virtual reality and distance coaching and learning
- Training and supporting rural generalists (Anesthesia, Obstetrics, Surgery)